

Fawltess Towers

The one with jail

A THIEF who looks like Ross from Friends has been jailed for 18 weeks.

Abdulah Husseini, 36, admitted shoplifting, possessing a knife and failing to attend court.

His resemblance to Ross, played by David Schwimmer, 52, caused an internet stir after he was caught on CCTV in Blackpool in September.

But Husseini, of Slough Berks, had shaved his head before sentencing by JPs in Uxbridge, West London, yesterday.

TORQUAY B&B IS VOTED THE BEST IN WORLD

Grand design... The 25

Frying high... guest's brekkie post

Earning its stripes... luxury room

Suite sensation... plush bathroom

Art and soul... unique room decor

By QIN XIE

A TINY bed and breakfast in the seaside town where Fawlt Towers is set has been named the best in the world.

But it could not be further from the 1970s fictional hotel run by blundering Basil Fawlt.

The business, called The 25 Boutique B&B, clocked up 100 per cent five-star reviews on TripAdvisor, winning it the Travellers' Choice Award.

Fans raved about everything from the charming home-made cakes to the Elemis toiletries.

They also hailed the B&B's "incredible hosts" – a far cry from John Cleese's snobby Fawlt and Andrew Sachs' hapless waiter Manuel.

The adults-only period property in Torquay has just six rooms, with prices from £125.

Reviewers loved the luxurious decor, attention to detail and walking distance to the seafront – known as the English Riviera, in Devon.

Veteran hoteliers Andy and Julian Banner-Price only opened it in 2017 and won Best B&B in England last year.

They said: "We love creating special experiences. Receiving excellent reviews makes our hard work truly rewarding."

Four other Brit B&Bs made it into the top ten of the awards, based on millions of reviews from holidaymakers.

TOP TEN: 1. The 25; 2. Jail Hill Inn, Illinois, US; 3. Bindon Bottom, West Lulworth, Dorset; 4. The Grange, Fylingthorpe, North Yorks; 5. Swallows Rest, Brigstock, Northants; 6. The Parsonage, Pennsylvania, US; 7. Hillstone Lodge, Colbost, Skye; 8. B&B Mondello Design, Sicily; 9. Creevagh Heights, Carrowmore-Lacken, Ireland; 10. Casa Da Praia, Goa, India.

SIR'S ADULT LINES

A HEADMASTER who used his work mobile to call adult phone lines has been banned from teaching.

Jonathan Twidle ran up a £951 bill on his BlackBerry while at Cooksbarn primary, Stockton-on-Tees.

He also used a school credit card to buy booze, groceries and dog food when he moved to Willow Fields Community School, Sunderland.

The Teaching Regulation Authority in Coventry said Twidle, 58, was dishonest and banned him for life.

ENGLAND now has more distilleries than Scotland for the first time – 166 compared to 160 north of the border, mainly due to an artisan gin boom.
